Still a lot of work to do, says Godden

WARREN PARTLAND

WOODVILLE-West Torrens coach Michael Godden was just happy to get the two premiership points.

The 43-point victory over Glenelg at the Bay yesterday was not pretty and Godden admits it was not a performance to strike fear into the leading title contenders.

But coming off three successive losses, Godden simply appreciated the two points and retrieving that winning feeling again.

"We will take that win for what it is," Godden said.

"I thought we were in control but I did not feel it was a comprehensive win.

"We have a long way to go and that performance is not worthy of a team that is a premiership contender - so there is a lot of work to do."

The Eagles will be without rover James Boyd for the clash against Norwood at Woodville Oval on Saturday because of a groin injury, Chris Hall left the game with concussion and Andrew Ainger was reported for allegedly charging.

Tigers coach Nick Stevens praised his side's endeavour and there was plenty of enthusiasm from the home team early. The Tigers got their hands to plenty of ball, only to burn it with sloppy skills and missing targets with hand and foot.

Another issue for the Tigers was the string of goals they conceded due to free kicks in front of goal.

It was not until late in the second quarter the Eagles were able to fully punish the Tigers for their mistakes and improved ball movement was reflected on the scoreboard when the visitors escaped to a 26-point advantage.

The Eagles' defence, led by Phil Raymond, Patrick Giuffreda and Jake von Bertouch, took control and small forward Lachlan McGregor's influence grew as the lead ballooned to 52 points in the third term.

The final quarter was a lacklustre spectacle. The Eagles had just one fit player on the bench and the Tigers, well served by Matthew Snook and Sam Lonergan on the ball, showed there is still fight in the team.

"Early we did turn the ball over a few times but the boys' endeavour was spot on," Stevens said.

"We went in with a plan of what we thought could win us the game and I thought the boys tried to implement it quite well considering we had a lot of our senior players out.

"A few skill errors early did hurt us and we have got to get better in that area, no doubt, but across the board the effort from where we were two weeks ago (118-point loss to the Redlegs) was a lot better."
