Sturt belts Tigers to hold top-two spot

JAMES GRATTON

STURT has done its chances of securing a top-two spot no harm after a convincing 49-point win against Glenelg yesterday at Peter Motley Oval.

The Double Blues' 14. 17 (101) to 7.10 (52) win puts them two games behind the top-placed Eagles, after their shock loss to South Adelaide this week.

Manic pressure from the Double Blues had Glenelg on the back foot early, with the Tigers struggling to execute by foot.

Matthew Snook (30 disposals, one goal) was a shining light for his side, slotting a much-needed goal late in the first.

Both sides lifted in the second term, hitting contests with aggression and pace.

Despite improving its workrate, Glenelg was no match for the home team which was able to rebound from its defensive half with ease.

Four unanswered goals for Sturt heading into the major break left it with a crucial lead.

Jackson Edwards (25 disposals, one goal), son of Adelaide Crows legend Tyson, was able to hit the scoreboard in the third term and kick his first SANFL goal.

Sturt squandered its chances on goal in the second half, kicking only seven majors from 15 shots.

Captain Zane Kirkwood (26 disposals, five marks) led from the front, while Patrick Wilson (28 disposals, 11 marks, one goal) played a crucial role.

Sturt coach Marty Mattner was pleased with the result.

"It is probably our most complete four-quarter effort over the season so I am really pleased with that," Mattner said. "We had some changes to our set-ups and structures going into the game and the way we wanted to play, but to execute like that was really good."

Glenelg coach Matthew Lokan was frustrated with the result.

"We needed to win today to lock away a finals spot and the boys were unable to get the job done," Lokan said.

"We came up against a really well-drilled team that was able to use the footy really well."
